HOGUE_HOGUE

1425..Patrick Hoge & Gilbert Hoge, Squires (listed among the gentlemen who devydit the marches betwixt Ridbeth & Bermosyde)

The laird in whose name this division was made, was the first to drop the spelling de Haga for the spelling Haig, which is still in use. It is probable that "Hoge" is only one variant of "Haga or Haig" and that the Hoge's are descendants of Petrus de Haga, who came from Normandy about 1150. This Peter of the Dyke, probably came from Cape de la Hague in Normandy.

- John Alexander never signed the Oath of Allegiance after the War Between the States.
- John Alexander was a Postmaster in Drew Co. There was a lady from PA who received her newspaper through the post office. A particular day the news did not arrive, when he delivered the paper the next day she hautily asked, "Where were you yesterday?" he replied there was no newspaper arrived at the post office. She rather doubted him and implied he kept it to read, to which he replied "I wouldn't read your damned old yankee newspaper."

- John Alexander was around 6'3" high cheek bones and narrow of face. He had a very good sense of humor and was well liked by everyone.
- In the 1950's Margaret Abston-Richardson visited the black Mammy of the John Alexander Hogue's in Drew Co, AR. She was very old and with very bad eye sight. Margaret got right up in her face and with her hands she felt all around Margarets face, when she came upon the very high cheek bones, she said, "Lawsy you is Masr John's Child.
- During the War Between the States Mary Jane was working at the Potato Hill house, as the word came " the yankees is a comin". Running fast as she could down the old plank road, she grabbed some special sheets she had made-- for when John came home. As she ran passed him with her hoops just a flappin' she heard "Hide it good- Hide it good! It was the brother of John, William Cordelia who had come home on leave and was hiding to keep from being captured by the yankees. After the yankees plundered all they could, frightened and ran off the slaves, they left--every thing finally settled down, slaves returned, and everyone went back to work. Mary Jane and Wm. Cordelia came out of the slough.

Margaret Abston-Richardson relates the following: During the War Between the States, when all the 9th AR INF road away from Drew County, they had two tag alongs; James Monroe and his slave companion. They became the waterboys for the 9th. The only records I can find (BB) are the pension application by his widow, Mary Eliza Hogue.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy approved a supplemental for James Monroe Hogue as being the brother of John Alexander Hogue in 1-2000.

note:

The Rev. Hoge was the son of John Hoge, elder in Elk River congregation in 1724, and Gwenthleen Bowen Davis and the grandson of William Hoge ("an exile for Christ's sake") and Barbara Hume, immigrants from Scotland in the ship Caledonia bout 1682.

He was a graduate of Nassau Hall (Princeton)and was licensed by the Presbytery of New Brunswick, October 10th 1753. In 1755 he was ordained by the Presbytery of New Castle and became the first pastor of the Churches of Opequon and Cedar Creek, Virginia. In 1760 we find him the pastor of Tuscarora, Opequon and Back Creek Churches.

The congregation fell into salary arrears and in 1761 he asked for dissolution.

Matters

dragged on until May 17, 1772 when the pastoral relation was finally dissolved by Donegal Presbytery, to which he was transferred, May 17, 1759, by the Synod.

He served nearby vacancies during and after his pastorate, and over the mountains into Pennsylvania. About 1776, he removed to Pennsylvania, probably to Northumberland county where he was a minister in 1793, and where descendants of his resided in 1904 at Watsontown.

He was a charter member of Carlisle Presbytery October 17, 1786 and convenor and first moderator of Huntingdon Presbytery April 14, 1795 and died on 11 Feb 1807, advanced in years. He was born in Pennsylvania about 1723; had at least two children, John and Priscilla. His peculiar talent was to hunt up and gather together the scattered members of the Church.

HILLIARD/WOODWARD JOURNAL

written by Doris Hilliard dau of Armistead D. Hilliard & Arminta Rebecca Harris-Hilliard.

It was written by Doris Hilliard dau. of Armistead Dandridge Hillard & Arminta Rebecca Harris Hilliard & was partially told to her by one of the children of Armistead Dandridge & Suvilla Pearson Woodward Hilliard ( I think, so it says on the paper.)

Richard Clark Woodward married Rebecca Woodward B.6-17-1803 (1st cousins) at Winnsboro, SC.

To this union was born

Isaac Means, Suvilla Pearson and William Clark.

Richard Clark Woodward had two brothers John & George and one sister, Ellen.

Both John & George were prosperous merchants and cotton buyers in Winnsboro & Camden, SC. Both had land holdings in Fairfield County on Jackson Creek. ( Same area as the GIBSON & GLADNEY families 1765-1800'S)

Suvilla Pearson Woodward (female) married Armistead Dandridge Hilliard in Winnsboro, SC. Armistead Hilliard was a merchant in Winnsboro at the time of their marriage. She was 23 when she married. Her father Richard Clark Woodward, was sheriff at that time. He operated a hotel "INN", but the family lived in a brick home.

Suvilla went to college at Charlotte, and took Caroline, a slave, along to wait on her. Suvilla was talented in music and taught in Winnsboro before and after her marriage. She had a beautiful piano given to her as a girl. This she took with her when she married. Dan & Suvilla Hilliard lived in "a big two story house" with porches upstairs and below. All around the house was a great big lawn where the children use to play. The house was near a college and Doris and others were playing on the campus when the YANKEES moved in on our lawn during the War Between the States.

The yanks went into the house and were shown over the house by Doris' father Armistead Dandridge Hilliard. When they reached the second floor they saw a stairway leading to the attic but passed it up, for some reason. Fortunately they did , as Suvilla Hilliard( Mother in law to Agusse Miller (1806/1914)) had hidden a few things to eat. That was all that was left of their food when the yanks left . Suvilla had also buried a trunk full of confederate money and a lot of gold, Hester helped her, but the yanks found it and dug it up.

They pillaged and burned the store. They rolled hogsheads of sugar, flour and molasses from the west Indies into the streets, used what they wanted and stomped on the rest. They took her square piano and fed the horses from it. They took everything they wanted from within and around the house, and in the shooting during the raid and while camped about the house shot the bullet holes in Grandpa Woodward's picture.

Being reduced to virtual poverty, the family moved the next November to Louisiana. In 1860, people were going West from South Carolina in great numbers. Robert C Woodward furnished the money and about 25 slaves for William Woodward to go to Louisiana and buy land. A year later, Isaac Means and Mary Hopkins Woodward moved from Winnsboro (with about 10-15 slaves to Rocky Mount, LA, to join William Woodward.

Richard Woodward furnished money and slaves in each case. From Rocky Mount,LA , Isaac Means Woodward went to the war with the 1ar LA Brigade. While he was gone Minnie Woodward was born. In November after the close of the war (1865) William Woodward came to South Carolina and got his only Sister Suvilla Hilliard, and her Mother and 5 children.

The 5 Children were:

Richard Clark Woodward Hilliard

William Clark Hilliard

Armistead Dandridge Hilliard mar Armita Rebecca Harris

Rebecca Hilliard

Mary Hilliard

Isaac Means Hilliard, born at Rocky Mount, age about 21, died at the Hilliard house in the spring before Ike(Isaac Fitzgerald Hilliard) was born in Oct.

The group traveled by train to Atlanta, and from there by train to Mobile. At Mobile they took a boat to New Orleans, from there to Shreveport by boat. There they were met by a wagon train and one carriage and were carried to Rocky Mount. Armistead D Hilliard & Richard Clark Woodward stayed in Winnsboro to settle their businesses.

Richard Clark Woodward bought a boat, "The Daniel Morton", and he and Armistead D. Hilliard operated it from Shreveport to New Orleans. They bought and sold goods along the Red & Mississippi Rivers, carrying passengers to & from New Orleans as well as cargoes of goods. As these 2 men cut quite a dash on Royal Street, in N.O. they got in debt and mortgaged their property to CHAFF, of New Orleans.

In September of 1867, Suvilla Hilliard died and was buried at Rocky Mount, LA. When Armistead D Hilliard died, Isaac Means Woodward took Armistead D. Hilliard, II and Rebecca Hilliard to raise. William Clark Woodward & Richard Clark Woodward took the other 5 children. R.C. Woodward died in 1870 and is buried at Rocky Mount, LA.

The farm on the Red River at Rocky Mount had 1,400 acres, 400 under cultivation. But things went from bad to worse! in 1870 they had a drought and made only 21 bales of cotton. CHAFF of N.O. called for their note. Both of the parents were gone, most of the property now gone. So the sons, Isaac and William Woodward moved to Arkansas through the influence of John and Mattie Robinson of Winnsboro who had settled at Rock Springs. ( could these be the parents of John Robinson who died in the civil war and was the first husband of Nancy Jane Gladney, dau of Edward Bruce Gladney, who married John McKeown Reep?)

Isaac Woodward, son of Rebecca & R.C. Woodward, bought 250 acres for $800.00 from VanLandingham. William Woodward 1828/1896 arrived in February and Mary "Mollie" B. REAP (dau. of Rachel GLADNEY & Jonas Reap) married him in July. He sold his place and moved on her place, which was a quarter of a mile due east of the Harris place.

It took about 6 days to make the trip from Rocky Mount to Rock Springs. They crossed the Saline River at Cornish Landing: spent the night there. Mary Hopkins Woodward & Grandma Woodward along with the smallest children traveled by carriage.

When they got to Tom (Thomas M.) GIBSON'S (son of Zachariah Gibson) (later Betsy's husband) six miles from the new home, they were asked to spend the night. All of the family stayed except for Armistead, Isaac & some Negroes. Armistead D Hilliard traveled with Isaac Woodward along with the Negroes, driving seven wagons, it was late, dark (Feb) when they got to the new home, it was raining and freezing. They took rocks and broke the ice to get the harness off the horses. When they all went into the house they discovered they had no "fire" so they went to bed with out any warm food or fire.

The next morning Armistead D. HILLIARD was sent to Edward C. REAPS (Mollie's Brother) to get fire. It was a half mile away. The Negroes got wood and set up the furniture. While at the Reap's, he ate breakfast with them and got not only fire but some breakfast for Isaac. Long up in the day William, GM Woodward, and Mary, along with the children arrived at the new house.

SO!! HERE THE WANDERERS WERE AT THE END OF THE TRAIL. A RICH, SOCIALLY PROMINENT FAMILY REDUCED TO POVERTY, HARDSHIP AND OBLIVION, IN A PIONEER COUNTRY, NEVER AGAIN TO REGAIN WHAT "WENT WITH THE WIND."

ISAAC WOODWARDS place was about A MILE NORTH OF THE ROCK SPRINGS CHURCH. Armistead D II lived there for four years. He then went to Cornersville and worked with Martin Maroney. He farmed and worked in the store and postoffice. While there some one broke into the store and R.C. was summoned to the trial which took place in Monticello under J.G.Williamson. He stayed there about 8 months. He left there with Dick and went to Filmore, LA to an academy: Grinswold was president. They worked their way for one year. Left Filmore at the close of school, went to Rocky Mount and stayed 6 mo with Martin Maroney. He then went to Annie McKeown's (Arminta Rebecca Harris Hilliard's only sister). He stayed there and went to Garners Academy. Arminta was also there.

In making preparations to marry, Armistead D. II bought 162 acres of land adjoining Grandma Harris (Sara Bassett) and Annie (Mrs. Edward L. ) McKeowns'. He cleared land built a house, barn, etc and made a crop, harvested it, got out wood, all in preparation for the big event. On Dec 12 they were married at Grandma's house by Rev. John Blakeley (Methodist Preacher, of course). They were married late in the evening. They had a supper of turkey, boiled ham and venison. A cake at each end of the table, frosted in white and trimmed in fancy candy. In the center of the table was a mound of "snowballs" (cakes baked in China cups and frosted white.) They had boiled custard and ambrosia. There was "PIDKIN" ( a tray made by her father full of oranges and nuts..filberts & chesnuts.) Her wedding dress, gray in color, and fixings came from Pine Bluff.

All the Bassett-Hilliard-Woodward-Harris families and friends were there. After the wedding they drove home in Grandma's top buggy behind "Olde Dolly".

Grandpa Bassett (James Kirby Bassett) originally bought the place that Uncle Jim & Aunt Ann Clegg Bassett lived and died on.
Gp & Gm Bassett (Kirby & Rebecca Clower Bassett) lived there until their death. Uncle Jim took over the place--gin, store and acreage.

Grandmother Harris (Sarah Bassett) was a tall, large but not fat woman. She had blue eyes and red hair. Most of the Bassett family had red hair, but no freckles. She was deeply religious, a prominent member of the Methodist Church at the Campground, where her membership, as well as most of her family, remained until her death.

She was surrounded with plenty, fine stock, stallion, buggy horses, riding horses and etc. Fine Jersey cows, Berkshire hogs, grey brama chicken, turkeys, fifty bee gums, sheep, a large orchard, fine apple orchard, plum thickets, as well as other fruit. Grandpa James Thomas Harris naturalized l'shallots in his apple orchard where they grew until after I was large enough to remember gathering them for Grandma, to put in some guinea dressing. She was a famous cook. That's where Ollie & Mama (Armintha Rebecca Harris Hilliard) got their talent.

Her home was in the midst of a great ALL hardwood forest. Her grandchildren are today still using her method of curing hams and bacon, sausage, lard, barrels of ribbon cane syrup (sorghum was a disgrace), large stone jars full of apples, peach, crab apple preserves and honey in the comb. She tied the tops of the jars with brown paper.

She bought green coffee, parched it herself and ground it in a mill fastened to the wall. She had a good garden, growing the first "love apples" in her community and a yard full of flowers. She was long on 'erbs sage, mint, catnip, basil (I can smell it yet), yellow dock and calamis root, slippery elm, black bow, also mullen and smart weed. These 'erbs were used mostly for medicine and almost entirely by the natives of the community for what ailed them. She was long on doctors and their saddle-bag pills. Her home was a mecca for people throughout that sections. She gave advice freely, but also gave to all who came and went.

Grandma Harris was the best natured woman in the world. She sat by the fireplace in an old fan-backed rocker, with a cushin of briar stitched pieces in the bottom. Her Bible, hymn book, almanac, and Methodist literature lay on a spool table near by. On the mantly was a large Seth Thomas clock that you wound by pulling down the weights, and a palm leafed fan that was bound in black velvet ribon. She kept an open and shut fam on the top of her trunk to carry to Church. She slept on a spool bed.

Between her house and Uncle William Woodward's house was the famous pigeon roost, where Mama and Papa remember seeing them by the thousands, in their field is a fault in the earth's surface. It was behind this bluff that the people of the community hid their stock when the "yankees" came near.
The ground is covered with rocks in Grandma's old place. They could never get good water, as in most parts of the country. They bought this place and moved there in November 1854.

They had no children for several years, they used to net birds (the net made of hand spun cords, with long wings on each side of the sort of a tunnel) Quail were driven into this tunnel. They also hunted dear, squirrels, turkeys and etc. He used a rifle that was loaded with lead bullets (he molded powder, shot and caps) The cap box was silver. On the gun stock is a deer head with antlers in silver. The inscription says " a gift to Uncle Isaac Woodward." At his death the gun went to Isaac Hilliard. He also called the hogs with William's silver-mounted horn. It came from SC. Arminta Rebecca had a loom on which she spun and wove cotton and woolen cloth, as well as "coverlets." She carded and spun woolen thread from which she knitted caps, mittens, socks and stockings.

Armistead D. planted a large Arboryitaw tree in the fall before they married. It is still healthy. He also planted one of the best orchards in the community. There are still two nice apple trees that bore well. It is still called the "OLD HILLIARD CHEESE APPLE", it's a deep yellow color and is found throughout the community in the farm orchards. It is a seeding tree.

Armistead Dandridge Hilliard, it is supposed, was born at Winnsboro. His Father and Mother are not known. He had three brothers, Bart, Marion and Edwin. Bart and Marion were merchants. Each was wealthy and had more than Armistead Dandridge Hilliard.

The Hilliards scattered to all parts of America.

The Bassett, Clower and Harris families came to AR by wagon train after the Indian Wars (ca 1848)./ They first stopped at Campground. The Clower's settled there and the Bassett & Harris families went on to Rock Springs. The Harris's bought their place and moved there in Nov 1854.

Grandma (Sarah?) Jane Bassett Harris (Mother's Mother) born and married in Tallapoosa, AL and was deeply religious, a prominent Church member, where she, John, Jim, Grandma Rebecca Clower Bassett and Grandpa James Kirby Bassett are buried in the Cemetery at Campground.

Grandma Woodward, Isaac, William Woodward, Isaac Hilliard, Mary "Mollie" B. Reap Woodward are buried at Rock Springs. Their church membership was there as well as Mama and Papa's.

Mamas Parents were Sarah Bassett & James Thomas Harris.

Grandparents were James Kirby and Rebecca Clower Bassett. (dau. of Jonathan

& Mary Shuler Clower)

They had seven girls and two boys:
all born Talapossa Al & moved to Drew Co, lived to be an old age.
