- ID: I07337
- Name: John NALL , Sr ¹
- Sex: M
- Title: Maj.
- Birth: ABT 1741 in Orange County (Culpeper County) Virginia
- Death: 14 SEP 1781 in the Revolutionary War Battle of Cane Creek, NC of Killed in battle
- Occupation: planter (farmer), politician and soldier
- Military Service: Revolutionary War Patriot
- Reference Number: 7362
- Note:
 1. John, with his parents, probably removed to North Carolina ca 1762. By 1764 he was buying land in Cumberland County, North Carolina. By 1778 he had sold his Cumberland County property and removed to Chatham County, North Carolina where he had previously, 1773, purchased land. About the time of his death, John owned approximately 2,684 acres.
 2. From his record of public service, John was obviously a respected young man in his community. Under The Ordinances of the North Carolina Convention of 1776, John was appointed a Justice of the Peace for Chatham County, North Carolina.
 3. In a report of the action in which he was killed, at Cane Creek, Burke County, he was referred to as "Major John Nall of Chatham County and a member of the Legislature." The battle was at or near a mill where the Governor was captured and held as a political prisoner rather than a prisoner of war.
